

BloodyMary

After an honorable discharge Mary “Mac” McNamara finds herself unable to adjust to civilian life. While searching for answers, fate’s mysterious hand guides her to join six strangers in a cabin in the desert to take an experimental drug with the promise of money and a life-changing experience. Accompanying Mary on this trip is a cancer survivor-Joan Franklin who fancies herself a thrill-seeker; the lawyer-Victor Quan who is getting over the loss of his wife and child; the alcoholic writer-Wilson Wolfe who is searching for inspiration and trying to kick bad habits; the free-spirited hippie-Sage who is seeking enlightenment anywhere she can; and the loving couple-Bonita and Lamar who are doing it for the money. While on this journey, crammed in a cabin, they are all forced to confront the demons of their past, but soon realize that only one will survive and fulfill their destiny as the devil sees fit.