

Mexican Bar Mitzvah

Nick Ponti a former tennis pro, has been down and out, living and boozing in Mexico for the past five years. He gets by playing piano at a sleazy bar, hustling tourists on the tennis court, doing odd and illegal jobs. As long as the pay is right Nick Ponti is up for the job. His love life revolves around a whore by the name of Marie. She loves him and finds herself loving him more every day. Ponti on the other hand hasn't cared about anything for a long time, maybe too long. That is until a job comes along that will force him to take responsibility and be the man that he should be.

The job is to find Katie, the sister of a wealthy, mysterious woman by the name of Cynthia. It seems Katie had spent some time in Mexico at an experimental drug rehab center and hasn't been heard from since. Cynthia is paying good money so Nick takes the job, but where it leads is not necessarily where he wants to go. In order to get Katie back Nick Ponti will have to go through the most powerful, most sadistic man who rules the underground. The one who calls himself the Master. A man who has his hands in everything dirty, from drugs to sex trading. He owns everybody and he always gets his way.

The question for Nick is, how far is he willing to go to see the job through? Is it something that he's willing to risk his life for? Because if he goes up against the Master, his life will surely be on the line.
